

BRIDE'S WEDDING GOWN OF BLACK SILK VELVET

Well in Keeping With Orchid-Decked Bower Under Which Vows
Are Spoken.

WEARS ONLY ONE ORNAMENT

Handsome Diamond Brooch, Gift of President, Fastens Bodice Low at Throat—All Guests in Full Evening Dress.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WASHINGTON, December 18.—The wedding costume worn by Mrs. Galt was well in keeping with the orchid-decked bower and canopy under which she made her marriage vows. Her gown was of black silk velvet with bodice of black embroidered net, and velvet in shades of blue in lily design over cloth and silver. The hat was a picture one of black beaver, wide and flaring at the left side, at which point there was placed a superb feather.

The skirt of the costume was made full, but walking length. The bodice was caught so as to display the bride's throat of marble-like whiteness, but there was a high, upstanding collar of point lace at the back of the neck.
The sleeves were one of the most attractive features of the gown, and were made of black tulle with elbow cuffs of embroidered black velvet, which flared and extended bell-shape over the wrists, and were lily-pointed at the elbow, where they joined the tulle net.

The bodice was enhanced by a band of embroidered net in shades of royal blue to the palest pastels. This band was placed over a band of cloth of silver, and extended from under the arms to the front of the bodice. There was a snugly fitting girdle of black velvet, which came well up over the band of silver.

The only ornament worn by Mrs. Galt besides a corsage bouquet of orchids was a handsome diamond brooch, the gift of the President, which fastened her bodice low at the throat. When President and Mrs. Wilson left for their honeymoon journey, she wore over her gown a magnificent coat of broadtail, trimmed with bands of Yukon. There was a chin-chin collar of Yukon fur and a muff to match.

ALL WEDDING GUESTS
IN FULL EVENING DRESS

All the wedding guests were full evening costume, and the gowns worn by the President's daughters and Mrs.
Wilson's mother and sisters were very elaborate and worthy of note.

Mrs. Margaret Wilson wore sapphire-blue velvet, made with a full skirt and trimmed with sapphire-embroidered silver tulle.

Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo wore a trained costume of blue silk broadened in silver and trimmed with white fur and silver embroidery.

Mrs. Frances Fawcett wore rose chiffon, trimmed with rose tulle, which formed the bodice.

Mrs. Helen Woodrow Bones wore yellow silk embroidered in silver with bodice of the silk and yellow silk net.
Mrs. William B. Bolling, mother of the bride, wore black tulle, net over an underskirt of black satin applied in King's blue velvet. The bodice, which was cut low, was draped over cloth of silver with touches of King's blue showing through.

Mrs. Bolling's gown was made with a short train, made separate from the gown, but caught at the left side of the back with a small cluster of crushed pink roses.

The ornaments which Mrs. Bolling wore at her own wedding were taken out for this occasion, and excited a great deal of admiration and comment. There are an antique set of cameos set in pearls and consist of necklace, brooch and bracelets.

Mrs. Bertha Bolling wore a wateau gown of blue and gold silk and chiffon over lace flounces. The full skirts were made of blue chiffon draped over the lace flounces. A pointer effect of turquoise blue taffeta, embroidered in Marquises in gold and silver was caught at the waist by a flower embroided silk girdle. The bodice of chiffon was cut in a deep V at the back and front over bands of heavy gold lace.

MRS MAURY WEARS
AN IMPORTED GOWN

Mrs. Matthew H. Maury, of Anniston, Ala., wore an imported gown, which was most becoming to her style of beauty. It was of white crepe and silver net, with a court train of creamy crepe embroidered in gold leaves. There was a delicately tinted moon flower at the waist line.

Mrs. Alexander Hunter Galt wore a gown of robin's-egg blue chiffon velvet, trimmed with allied bands of silver. A girdle of black tulle caught with crushed roses in pink shades completed the costume.

Mrs. Rolfe A. Bolling wore light blue taffeta in pattern effect, over white lace, with a girdle of silver embroided in iridescent beads.

Mrs. Julian B. Bolling wore pink satin, full skirt, with tulle bodice in the same shade.

Mrs. Richard Wilmer Bolling had a

Entire Nation in Holiday Attire

The most impressive ceremonies marked the coronation of Yoshihito as Emperor of Japan. The official rites took place at Kyoto, the ancient capital of the Mikados, and the Emperor and Empress traveled in state from the actual capital, Tokyo, to Kyoto. The trip was the most elaborate, ostentatious and pompous that had ever marked an imperial coronation in Japan. The entire route, a distance of 328 miles, was lavishly decorated. Peasant and town folk, dressed in their holiday best, gathered along the road where the imperial procession was to pass, and with deep reverence stood silently by as the imperial retinue passed. The picture at top shows Prime Minister Count and Countess Okuma in their ceremonial robes. The photograph was taken at the imperial residence at Tokyo, from where they accompanied the Emperor and Empress to Kyoto. The lower photo shows the arrival of the coronation parade at Kyoto.

gown of white tulle over flesh-color chiffon. The tulle pointed tunic had a pink rose at each point. The waist was made of the tulle with silver girdle caught with a silver rose. The short underskirt was enhanced by a band of silver embroidery. She wore silver slippers.

Mrs. Anne Wilson Howe, sister of President Wilson, wore blue silk net veiled in black silk net.

Mrs. Perin Cochran wore white tulle tulle trimmed with silver lace.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., December 18.—W. F. Moore, former member of United States Eleventh Cavalry, stationed at Fort Oglethorpe, but now member of the Fifth United States Cavalry, was arrested at Fort Myer, Va., to-day on the charge of killing Clarence Livingston, a mounted police officer of Chattanooga, who was murdered August 12, 1912.

Moore was indicted by the Hamilton County grand jury a few days ago and his arrest ordered. Officers have gone for Moore.

Seriously Ill.
Mrs. Ross Schenberger, of 712 East ill with pneumonia.

DRINK HOT WATER IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons, which are then sucked into the blood, through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Men and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phos-phated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Royal Americans.

I feel confident that readers of Cooper's "Leatherstocking Tales" would like to hear something about the old Royal Americans, now known as the King's Royal Rifle Corps. Pennsyl-vanians in particular would be interested in the fortunes of what is stated to be the only command now in existence that took part in the capture of Fort Duquesne, now the flourishing city of Pittsburgh.

The Royal Americans were raised, according to the British military histories, during 1755-56 in North America for the purpose of assisting the army to retrieve the disaster which had befallen the British troops under General Braddock. "The slow improvements of troops trained upon the European model, with their heavy ac-countments and unsuitable tactics, were helpless against savages."

As the Sixtieth Royal Americans, the regiment was formed of 1,200 men in four battalions, and Gen. the Earl of Loudoun, commander-in-chief of the British army in America, was appointed colonel-in-chief. It was recruited from settlers, mainly of German and Swiss origin, in Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland and North Carolina.

The old regiment still has four battalions. In the present war the First Battalion was at the battle of Mons.
The Second Battalion was in General Buller's Second Brigade of the First Division. At the battle of the Aisne they were in Sir Douglas Haig's advance to Troyon, September 14. But their heaviest task was at the first battle of Ypres.
